

Mutual Sector online MBA Program from the University of South Australia

The Australasian Mutuals Institute (AM Institute) - has entered into a partnership to jointly sponsor the MBA program with the University of South Australia (UniSA) to eligible managers and supervisors working in Credit Unions, Building Societies, Mutual Banks and Friendly Societies.

You can study from wherever you are working or living, as the program is undertaken entirely online - anywhere, anytime, anyplace.

Program Overview

The UniSA MBA consists of 12 courses, and is structured in 3 stages. The first stage of 4 courses make up the Graduate Certificate in Business Administration. Building on those 4 with successful completion of another 4 courses means the participant achieves the Graduate Diploma in Business Administration. Successfully undertaking a further 4 means the participant will be awarded a Master of Business Administration (MBA).

Each course is undertaken during an 11 week study period, and the Mutual Sector MBA is scheduled for 3 to 4 courses each year. Assessment is continuous and online, with each course culminating in a workplace applied management project.

Benefits

The program equips participants with a range of skills required to become effective leaders and opens up promotional career opportunities in addition to personal development. Our lectures and facilities are designed to provide you with an environment where your full management potential can be realised.

Transportability

Any participant can take a break from the education program at the completion of each stage in the Mutual ADI Program. At each stage, the award (Graduate Certificate, Graduate Diploma or Masters) is recognised in Australia and internationally.

Exemption, credit transfer and recognition of prior learning

In line with the University's policy on recognition of prior learning, students who have completed appropriate postgraduate management courses (achieving the equivalent of a Credit level) in programs at recognised institutions are granted status in relevant courses, pending assessment by the Program Director.
